Project Description

The National Park Service Cultural Resources Office of Interpretation and Education runs the Discover our Shared Heritage Travel Itinerary Program. The program creates online itineraries to historic properties that are listed in the National Register of Historic Places. This online travel itinerary program started over 20 years ago, and some of the itineraries are looking . . . dated. We need someone to hunt on the internet to find photographs that are better than the ones we are currently using. (Some of our itineraries use small black and white photographs.) However, we need photographs that are free of copyright restrictions. They can be public domain, available under creative commons license, or with the permission of the photographer/copyright holder. We need you to

1. Find good photographs of the properties described in the itineraries
2. Provide the full url of the photograph
3. Provide the copyright permission
4. Unfortunately, the Travel Itinerary program has no budget to pay photographers for their work (or, ironically, for travel).

Related to this itinerary photograph project would be updating our Heritage Travel Instagram account:

<https://www.instagram.com/heritagetravelnps/>

We are looking to post to the Instagram account weekly with photographs and a blurb from the itineraries.
